

Inala's South East Australia

Small group tour

Koala, Plains-wanderer,
Superb Lyrebird, and more...

Tuesday 8 to Thursday 17 November 2022

This 10-day tour takes in the best parts of the various habitats that the south-eastern corner of mainland Australia has to offer. From cool temperate rainforests to coastal saltmarsh, mallee heaths and outback plains, we marvel at wide variety of birds within, as well as a good number of mammals and reptiles.

This tour has been designed to join our NSW small group tour \(Friday 18- Wednesday 23 November 2022\).

Day 1. Tuesday 8 November 2022. Melbourne to Geelong via the Western Treatment Plant.

Your specialist Inala guide Steve Davidson will meet you at a designated location in Melbourne to start the tour. We start with a bang as we travel south-west of Melbourne to the swamps, lagoons, shoreline and grasslands of the world-renowned Western Treatment Plant, where bird diversity and numbers are astonishing. Here we can expect to see species such as Sharp-tailed, Curlew & Marsh Sandpipers, Red-necked Stint, Red-kneed Dotterel, Black-fronted Dotterel, Red-capped Plover, Pacific Gull, Hoary-headed Grebe, Australasian Gannet, Pied, Little Pied, Great & Little Black Cormorants, Australian Pelican, Crested, Fairy, Whiskered & White-winged Black-Terns, Pink-eared, Freckled, Blue-billed, Musk and White-eyed Ducks, Australian Shelduck, Cape Barren Goose, Red-necked Avocet, Banded & Pied Stilts, Australian Spotted & Spotless Crakes, Buff-banded & Lewin's

Banded Stilts. Photo: E. Woehler

Rails, Royal & Yellow-billed Spoonbills, Galah, Striated Fieldwren, Horsfield's Bushlark, Brown Songlark, Yellow-rumped Thornbill, Golden-headed Cisticola, Zebra Finch, Swamp Harrier, Wedge-tailed Eagle, White-bellied Sea-eagle and Black, Brown & Peregrine Falcons. There are usually a few more uncommon waders and some rarities that turn up each summer-autumn period so there will undoubtedly be something of interest.

Accommodation: Geelong (en suite rooms). Meals included: B, L, D.

Day 2. Wednesday 9 November 2022. Great Ocean Road area.

We will travel along the Great Ocean Road today and visit the heathlands, forest, shoreline and estuaries of the region. Days 3 & 4. Thursday 10 & Friday 11 November 2022. Inland woodlands, mallee and heath: Lorne to Bendigo.

Moving north today, we will make our way towards the drier woodlands of central Victoria. Here predominately box-ironbark woodlands and mallee heath vegetation communities harbour a number of bird species that are not found closer to Melbourne and are typical of the mallee regions in the far north-west of the state. Birds to expect here include Crested Bellbird, Gilbert's Whistler, Shy Heathwren, Purple-backed Fairy-Wren, Yellow-plumed, Tawny-crowned, Purple-gaped, Blue-faced, Singing, Yellow-tufted, Fuscous, Black-chinned, Whiteplumed, White-eared & White-fronted Honeyeaters, Brush & Common Bronzewing, Noisy Friarbird, Chestnut-rumped, Yellow, Buff-rumped & Inland Thornbills, Western Gerygone, Hooded, Scarlet & Red-capped Robins, Rainbow Bee-eater, Dusky, White-browed & Masked Woodswallows, Purple-crowned, Little & Musk Lorikeets, White-bellied Cuckoo-Shrike, Black-eared, Horsfield's Bronze & Pallid Cuckoos, Red-rumped Parrot and Eastern Rosella. Also possible are Leaden & Restless Flycatchers, Speckled Warbler, Weebill, White-browed Babbler, Brown Treecreeper, Long-billed Corella, Brown Goshawk, Wedge-tailed & Little Eagles, Australian Hobby, Australian Raven, Jacky Winter, White-winged Chough, Rufous Songlark, Tree Martin & Diamond Firetail.

Accommodation: Hotel in Bendigo (en suite rooms) for 2 nights. Meals included: B, L, D both days.

Day 5 & 6. Saturday 12 & Sunday 13 November 2022. Plains Wanderer and other specialties: Bendigo to Deniliquin.

Plains Wanderer Photo: P. Maher

We will have another morning in some mallee habitats to clean up a few birds we may have missed before heading further north and to the open plains on very edge of the outback. The district supports a huge range of birds including White-backed Swallow, Black Falcon, Orange Chat, Painted Honeyeater, Wedge-tailed Eagle, Greater Blue Bonnet, Southern Whiteface, Apostlebird, Grey-crowned Babbler, Striped Honeyeater, Superb Parrot, Australasian Bushlark, Brown Songlark and Spotted Harrier, and we will endeavour to catch up with most of these whilst in the area. With local guide and legend Philip Maher at the helm for our second evening, the main target after dark will be the enigmatic Plains Wanderer, and depending on local conditions and/or how much rain has fallen in recent times there may be the chance of other specials like Australian Pratincole, Inland Dotterel, Stubble Quail and Banded Lapwing. Nocturnal birds feature as well, and we could pick up Barn Owl, Southern Boobook, Australian Owlet-nightjar and Tawny Frogmouth. Mammals here range from the mighty Red Kangaroo, Western Grey Kangaroo,

Common Brushtail Possum and tiny Fat-tailed Dunnart. Accommodation: Deniliquin (en suite rooms) for 2 nights. Meals included: B, L, D both days.

Day 7. Monday 14 November 2022. Red Gum Forest and Riverina: Deniliquin to Seymour.

Today we will have a more relaxed departure after what will probably be a late night the previous evening, and so with a bit of travel day birding will be limited as we head south back into Victoria. Along the way we will have a look at some of the wetlands in the red gum forests of the Riverina and hope to connect with the rare Square-tailed Kite, Australasian Bittern and Black-backed Bittern, plus another chance of Superb Parrot. Further south we will stop at some heathy woodland and look for Spotted Quail-thrush, Chestnut-rumped Heathwren, Scarlet Robin, Speckled Warbler and Leaden Flycatcher.

Day 8. Tuesday 15 November 2022. Into the tall wet Eucalyptus forests: Seymour to Healesville.

Today we will head toward the ranges east of Melbourne and slightly higher altitudes where the habitat changes into tall mountain forests and dense fern gullies. En route we will explore some open woodland habitats, with the possibility of some harder to track birds like Azure Kingfisher, White-throated Gerygone, Weebill, Buff-rumped Thornbill and Dollarbird.

Accommodation: Healesville (en suite rooms).

Meals included: B, L, D.

Day 9. Wednesday 16 November 2022. Superb Lyrebird & amazing nocturnal mammals: Healesville.

Birds we can expect to see include the amazing Superb Lyrebird, as well as Eastern Whipbird, Black-faced Monarch, Pilotbird, Red-browed & White-throated Treecreepers, Pink, Rose, Flame & Eastern Yellow Robins, Large-billed Scrubwren, White-throated Needle-tail, Rufous Fantail, Varied Sittella, Rufous Whistler, Cicadabird, Black-faced Cuckoo-shrike, Crested Shrike-tit, Crimson Rosella, Brown Gerygone, Satin Flycatcher, Fan-tailed & Brush Cuckoos, Shining Bronze-cuckoo and Olive Whistler. Tonight, we can try for nocturnal birds like Sooty Owl, Southern Boobook and Tawny Frogmouth. Nocturnal mammals include the possibility of Greater Glider, Yellow-bellied Glider, Sugar Glider, Mountain Brushtail Possum and Common Ringtail Possum.

Superb Lyrebird Photo: A. Schulte

Accommodation: Healesville (en suite rooms) as for last night. Meals included: B, L, D.

Day 10. Thursday 17 November 2022. Healesville to Melbourne and depart. This morning we will check a few areas in the forest for any birds we might still be missing, before making our way back towards Melbourne. Along the way we can stop at a colony of Bell Miner, as well as a known site for day-roosting Powerful Owls. Nearby we will visit a huge encampment of Grey-headed Flying Foxes. We will arrive back in Melbourne in the late afternoon where the tour will conclude. Those participants joining our NSW parks & reserves birding & natural history small group tour \(18-23 November 2022\) may board a flight to Sydney of their choosing.

Accommodation: none. Meals included: B, L.
